MOHAWK NATION OF GRAND RIVER

The Million Acre Wall

Every acre of public support, marked on the Tract and kept: draw your acres, pledge by the acre, and leave a mark that stays.

The wall as it stands; how a mark is made in six steps; the game on the Tract; what a mark is, and is not; where the money goes; the Public Support Plan, a token to the standards · From Book IV of the National Books, Lands and the Tract, and Book XXII, the Bank and the Treasury

THE WALL, AS IT STANDS

In gold, the marks on the wall at 28 October 2026, from the Register's own feed; in plum, marks drawn for the poster to show the wall filling. The web edition draws the wall live. The marks never touch the parcels, the surveys, the allotments or the conservancy.

$2 an acre

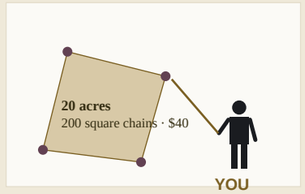

from a quarter acre; $25 the least

35,820 acres

marked so far, in 2 marks; live on the web

1,000,000

acres to mark: the whole Tract, and more

Draw your shape on the Tract, or type the acres; the wall prices it as you draw, and keeps it when you pledge. Your mark stands faint until the Treasury confirms it, then full, for as long as the wall stands.

THE GAME ON THE TRACT

- Special places: hidden on the Tract: find one, and your mark is raised to its tier
- Conservation acres: marked to stay as they are
- A stamp by post: the plan's stamp sent to you
- A forebear's name: acres marked for one who came before
- Six Miles Deep: the river to the line, the Tract's whole depth
- Every year: re-mark it; the wall keeps every year
- Your town: marked from wherever you are
- Acres in chains: as the surveyors measured
- Three tiers: Standard, Elevated, Major, by the place found

HOW A MARK IS MADE, IN SIX STEPS

1. Draw YOU
   Draw your shape on the Tract, or type the acres you want; the wall shows its acres, in square chains too, and what it comes to: $2 an acre, from a quarter acre, $25 the least
2. Pledge FAINT
   Give your name as it should stand on the wall, or a forebear's, and the town you mark from; the mark stands faint on the wall as a pledge
3. The Treasury confirms FULL
   Your contribution goes to the Voluntary Contribution Program, direction 2, legal and institutional development: the credential system. When the Treasury confirms it, the mark stands full
4. The plan is issued SUP001
   Your Public Support Plan, on the certificate sheet: the shape with its bearings and corner markers, a key map, its acres, your name, its stamp, its code, SUP001-YYMMDD-NNNNNN, and the Nation's Edge Mark
5. The token ERC-721
   The same plan as a token to the standards the NFT world reads: ERC-721 with its metadata, ERC-4906 so its standing updates as the wall fills; its value rises as the wall fills, by scarcity, and it is never resold
6. Keep it KEPT
   Open it again by its code; a stamp by post if you ask; re-mark it each year, and the wall keeps every year; find a special place and the plan says so

WHAT A MARK IS, AND IS NOT

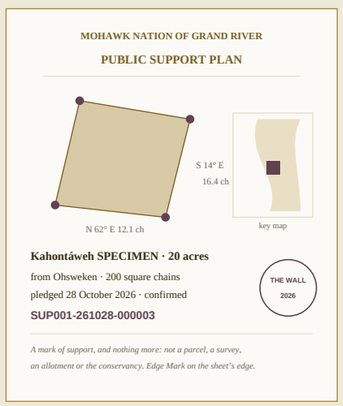

It is

- a mark of public support on the Tract, kept for as long as the wall stands
- a Public Support Plan on the certificate sheet, with its code and stamp
- a token to the NFT standards, whose standing rises as the wall fills
- a contribution confirmed by the Treasury, and a name on the wall

It is not

- a parcel, a survey, an allotment, or any part of the conservancy: every plan says so
- a title to land, or a claim against anyone's
- for resale: a plan stays with the one who made the mark

THE PUBLIC SUPPORT PLAN

WHERE THE MONEY GOES

The Voluntary Contribution Program, direction 2: legal and institutional development, the credential system: the passports, the cards and the Register behind them. The Treasury confirms every contribution; the Ledger keeps it.

The wall and the land registry are kept apart. The parcels, the surveys, the allotments and the conservancy are the Register's; the wall is support, and nothing more.

The standards

ERC-721 and its metadata; ERC-4906 for standing that changes; the Edge Mark on every plan; the Record Code SUP001 in every token; acres by spherical excess, in chains too.

Mark your acres at mohawkuniversity.org/Register/million-acre-wall. The Tract itself is in The Tract, and What Is Left of It; the Treasury in The Grand River Dollar: companion posters from Mohawk's Printer.
